

Meet NYCPM's New Medical Librarian
Ms. Lorraine Chun Ng

Introducing Ms. Lorraine Chun Ng, NYCPM's new Medical Librarian. Ms. Chun brings her extensive experience in librarianship and academia to NYCPM. She last worked at Elizabeth Haub Law School Library/Pace University (White Plains), where she was a Reference Librarian and worked with the Archives/Special Collections Unit. Her background in database searching (from PubMed to academic Search Premier) will be an asset to the College and its students. She has been a consultant for website content for several organizations and a trainer for the New York State Early Intervention Program/Early Intervention Learning Network. Prior to becoming a librarian, Ms. Chun had a broad career in public health and was an Assistant Commissioner with the Westchester County Department of Health, managing the Bureau of Children with Special Needs.
