NYCPM Celebrates 100% Eligibility for CASPR Residency Match and 100% Placement on Day One!
Residency Locations Revealed at Week’s End

The New York College of Podiatric Medicine proudly announced that the Class of 2018 achieved a 100% residency match in the first round on Monday March 19. In addition, five prior graduates also matched in the first round. By virtue of passing Part II NBPE, 100% of the class was eligible for the match. Michael J. Trepal, DPM, Vice President of Academic Affairs and Academic Dean of NYCPM, stated “I cannot recall similar results in recent history. Truly remarkable! I congratulate the class of 2018 and the faculty who taught them, as well as the administration and staff who supported them.”
On Friday, March 23, seniors found out where they had matched. While the preponderance of matches were with hospitals in the metropolitan area, the tristate area and New England, a few matches will take students farther afield, including Washington State, Florida and Michigan.

Happy seniors with the envelopes that told them where they had matched.

The money jar was won by Darren Doi. Posing with him (and the jar) are, left to right, Joel Sturm, COO; Ronald Soave, DPM; Darren Doi; Robert A. Eckles, DPM, and Michael J. Trepal, DPM, FACFAS.
