Prashant Bhoola, Class of 2015, wins Dr. Leon Goldman Scholarship

Prashant Bhoola, Class of 2015, has been awarded the Dr. Leon Goldman Scholarship. The scholarship, which comes with a stipend of $2,000, is awarded to the NYCPM student who earns the highest grade in the first semester Biochemistry course, which is taught by Drs. Peter Barbosa and Kenneth H. Astrin. The scholarship is given by the NYCPM Class of 1961 in memory of their beloved Biochemistry Professor, Dr. Leon Goldman. Dr. Myron C. Boxer, DPM, FASPM, FACPP, organized the effort among his classmates to endow the Scholarship at NYCPM.