

Arthur Wolstein, DPM ('37), at 100, Honored by NYCPM

At the Century Award presentation are (left to right): Michael J. Trepal, DPM ('81), Sandy Wolstein, Richard Russo, Louis Wolstein DPM (Scholl, '75), Nicholas Argerakis, DPM ('09), and seated, Arthur Wolstein, DPM ('37).

During the noon break in the Schuster Memorial Biomechanics Seminar (see related article), Michael J. Trepal, DPM ('81), Vice President for Academic Affairs and Dean, on behalf of Louis L. Levine, NYCPM President and CEO, and Nicholas Argerakis, DPM ('09), representing the Alumni Relations Association (ARA), presented the NYCPM Century Award to Arthur Wolstein, DPM ('37) on the occasion of his 100th birthday. Dr. Wolstein expressed his appreciation, and also reminded attendees that he and Dr. Richard O. Schuster were members of the same class. Afterwards, Dr. Wolstein's son Dr. Louis Wolstein (Scholl, 1975), said that his dad was thrilled with the recognition, and that the Wolstein family is very appreciative of all that the College and ARA have done for their dad.