NYCPM and TUSPM Institute their First Shared Grand Rounds via Webinar

On Friday, November 9, the New York College of Podiatric Medicine (NYCPM) and Temple University School of Podiatric Medicine (TUSPM) instituted their first shared Grand Rounds via webinar. Faculty, students and staff from each college came together electronically to share interesting and educational case presentations.

The shared Grand Rounds came to fruition after NYCPM Vice President for Academic Affairs & Dean, Michael J. Trepal, DPM and TUSPM Associate Dean Kieran Mahan, DPM came up with the idea, and asked faculty members Johanna Godoy, DPM from NYCPM and Gabriela Mendez, DPM from TUSPM to coordinate the project. Drs. Mendez and Godoy, who are long-time friends, and were co-residents, accomplished all the legwork and made the webinar happen. Both colleges anticipate this to be the first of many cooperative educational endeavors.
