NYCPM is Joined by NUI Galway for Superbones Conference

Superbones Superwounds East 2018 Conference represented the 4th Annual Transatlantic Seminar in Wound Care and Podiatric Medicine, with the participation of NYCPM and the National University of Ireland, Galway. The conference took place in Teaneck, NJ, April 6-8. This continuing educational conference is intended for practicing surgical and wound care health care professionals. Notable programming included a series of lectures from NYCPM’s Drs. Michael Trepal, Kevin Jules, Jeff Cusack, and Robert Eckles, and by the NUI Galway’s Medical School Dean, Timothy O’Brien, MD, PhD, who spoke about “Stem Cell Therapy and Diabetic Foot Ulcers,” as well as lectures by National University of Ireland Galway’s Caroline McIntosh, PhD, Wael Tawfick, MB, and Georgina Gethin, PhD.
